One of the crew members told the captain of the Grape Escape that his girlfriend was still aboard the burning boat. I had assumed the girlfriend was Allie Kurtz and was trying to figure out which crewmember said that. But I found this:

a memorial to Allie from a guy name Rob saying he would always love her. Could be a friend or ex-bf. But I'm now wondering if the girlfriend may have been one of the passengers.

This is probably completely irrelevant to determining the cause of the fire but I think the more we know the better armed we are to get to the bottom of things.

Maybe she had two boyfriends and they don't know about each other?
