From the LA Times, 8 Sep 19:

Michael Quitasol,
Fernisa Sison,
Angela Rose Quitasol,
Nicole Storm Quitasol,
Evan Michel Quitasol

For the Quitasol family, the Labor Day weekend scuba diving trip was supposed to be a celebration at sea.

Three sisters — Angela, Nicole and Evan Quitasol — set out last weekend with their father, Michael, and their stepmother, Fernisa Sison. The family was celebrating Michael's 62nd birthday with a three-day excursion that included dives in the kelp forests, nature lectures and gourmet meals.

"They were the most kind, most loving people I've ever met, and I'm not just saying that because they're family," said their stepfather, Chris Rosas. "The way they interacted with anyone they ever came across, they were wonderful."

Evan, 37, was a nurse who worked in the emergency department of a Stockton-area hospital.

Sison was a nurse practitioner at Kaiser Permanente Central Valley, a spokesman said.

Nicole, 31, worked as a bartender in a lounge in Coronado, which allowed her to live near her beloved ocean, Rosas said.

Angela, 28, was a science teacher at Sierra Middle School in Stockton and was "wonderful with kids," Rosas said. She had played roller derby with the Port City Roller Girls in Stockton, where she skated under the name Hermione Danger, the team said.

Angela was the maid of honor at the wedding of another sister, Evika, who was recently married. Evan and Nicole were bridesmaids, too.
