

Forum

<https://visuallaw.swcp.com/>

Raymond Chan

<https://visuallaw.swcp.com/viewtopic.php?f=6&t=244>

Raymond Chan

by Wildlife

11426/1U Chan R; M59

-DNA; heart blood

-jeans & belt, no shirt; one foot hiking boot, other sandal

-all body parts, including feet & hands

-cell phone in hand

Page 1 of 1

Posted: Thu Oct 29, 2020 8:13 pm

Re: Raymond Chan

by Wildlife

<https://www.dailynews.com/2019/09/04/ca...ery-grave/>

Posted: Fri Dec 25, 2020 8:56 am

Re: Raymond Chan

by Wildlife

<https://people.com/human-interest/calif...e-victims/>

Posted: Fri Dec 25, 2020 11:38 am

Re: Raymond Chan

by Wildlife

<https://nypost.com/wp-content/uploads/s...all&w=1324>

Posted: Fri Dec 25, 2020 12:29 pm

Re: Raymond Chan

by 8F8T76

Autopsy report from sheriff's office.

11426.pdf

(1.67 MiB) Downloaded 1 time

Posted: Thu Feb 04, 2021 2:27 pm

Re: Raymond Chan

by 8F8T76

From the LA Times, 8 Sep 19:

Raymond Scott Chan, Kendra Chan
Scott Chan shared his love of scuba diving with his daughter, Kendra, who often accompanied him on expeditions in the Channel Islands. One photo shared by their family showed father and daughter grinning next to a Christmas tree, sporting new diving gear.
"You don't expect to have a child that dies before you," said Vicki Moore, Kendra's mother and Scott's partner, in an interview with KTVU-TV of Oakland.
Scott Chan, 58, graduated from Stanford and worked in Silicon Valley as an electrical engineer for two decades before starting a second career as a high school teacher in the Bay Area, bringing "experience from research laboratories, and the electronics, computer, and high-performance automotive industries into the classroom," he wrote in his LinkedIn profile.
At American High School, his students "knew him to be an innovative and inspiring teacher who developed a passion for physics among his students," said Brian Killgore, a spokesman for the Fremont Unified School District.
Kendra Chan, 26, was a biologist with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Ventura. She lived in Oxnard.
"I was so proud, so proud of her and all that she was doing," Moore said. "She was absolutely an amazing young woman."
In a video produced by the agency last year for Women's History Month, Kendra Chan said she grew up diving in the Channel Islands with her father and loved sibling, hiking and camping. She described her love for the marine world, including watching "all the tiny little creatures come alive" on rocks and help holdfasts.
"Just get outside," she said. "Get involved. Work on citizen science projects. Volunteer somewhere. You don't have to be a biologist on paper to be a scientist in real life."
— LAURA J. NELSON

Posted: Thu Mar 04, 2021 2:44 pm

Re: Raymond Chan

by 8F8T76

Facebook page contents:

R Scott Chan Facebook.pdf

(2.33 MiB) Downloaded 1 time

checkpeople.com report:

checkpeople.com_Raymond Chan_03-06-2021.pdf

(1.79 MiB) Downloaded 2 times

Posted: Sat Mar 06, 2021 4:08 pm

Re: Raymond Chan

by 8F8T76

From his employer <https://www.facebook.com/USDFremont/pos...2035882871>

Posted: Thu Mar 25, 2021 2:11 pm

As we continue to mourn the loss of American High School Physics Teacher Scott Chan and his daughter over the Labor Day Weekend, we would like to share a tribute written by his friend Dan Burns...

The physics teaching community suffered a great loss this weekend. Scott Chan was aboard the dive boat Conception with his 26-year-old daughter Kendra. The dive boat caught fire early Monday morning and sunk while anchored off Santa Cruz Island. Other than the 5 crew members who jumped into the water, all aboard perished. My heart goes out to Scott's wife Vickie and son Kevin and all of their family and friends. Scott's students and colleagues at American High School in Fremont, California will surely be devastated when they learn about this tragedy.

Scott was a frequent contributor to the College Board's APTC discussion group and our local PTSOS email list. He always had something useful and helpful to say. A quick search of the archives will show how generous he was with his time and expertise. Scott also attended many PTSOS physics workshops where he freely shared his ideas, adding to the workshop experience for all who attended. He can be seen in the viral "Gravity Visualized" Youtube video filmed during a PTSOS workshop. He is the fourth teacher on my right. He enjoyed the minor celebrity status he got when his students recognized him in the video..

Scott was a computer engineer for Juniper Networks when I first met him. He left and cashed out his stock options just before the dot-com bust, allowing him to do whatever he liked. After seeing how much fun I was having teaching physics, he decided to give it a try. He took some college physics classes to brush up on the basics and earned his physics teaching credential. I have enjoyed getting to talk shop with him at our family get-togethers and at our local NCNAAPT meetings. Of all the engineers I have helped with this transition, Scott was the most successful. He was very versatile, teaching every AP Physics class as well as conceptual and regular physics. He also taught an engineering class. Scott had the ability to connect with all levels of students and knew how to meet their needs. He made his class engaging with examples of novel physics applications related to his hobbies of skiing, cycling, diving, and auto racing. He had a quick wit and great sense of humor that made his students look forward to his class every day.

I have known Scott ever since our kids went to elementary school together. His son and daughter were the same ages as my son and daughter. Together we went through Cub Scouts, PTA meetings, marching band contests, skiing trips, and many other of life's events that you take for granted as they happen, but later mean so much. My family is heartsick and we are having trouble coming to grips with this terrible news. I wish I could take comfort knowing that Scott and Kendra were together doing what they loved but the reality of what happened to them is too terrible to imagine. Please give your family members an extra hug today for Scott and Kendra and all those... loved ones who won't be coming back from this Labor Day weekend.

Re: Raymond Chan

by 8F8T76

Social Media Questionnaire:

Raymond Scott Chan.pdf

(47.4 KiB) Downloaded 1 time

Posted: Thu Apr 08, 2021 8:24 am

Re: Raymond Chan

by 8F8T76

Results of Passenger Equipment Questionnaire:

Scott Chan Equipment Questionnaire.pdf

(54.44 KiB) Downloaded 1 time

Scott and Kendra Chan's equipment receipts.pdf

(2.42 MiB) Downloaded 1 time

Posted: Tue May 04, 2021 2:09 pm