From the LA Times, 8 Sep 19:

Berenice Falgo,
Tia Salika-Adamick,
Steve Salika,
Diana Adams
The Salika-Adamick, a high school student from Santa Cruz, accused the Cupertino with her close friend Berenice Falgo and her parents — Steve Salika and Tia Salika-Adamick — in connection to the murder.
Berenice Falgo, 16, worked at Apple Inc. for three decades and met Adam Adams, said Falgo's mother, the company's senior vice president of retail and people, the man, his "energy and enthusiasm focused on many people across our company throughout his career."
When Berenice Adams started working at Apple in 2001, she joined by Salika, after the quartet the murder hit as a big, long, and somewhat mysterious investigation. Salika worked in quality assurance for major products, she said, including the iPod and the first Apple TV.
"He had this crazy pool of hair, and those enormous Robert Irvine chops and those musty glasses," she said. "He had earth patterns, and he had his great, his huge booming laugh. If you could make him laugh, that was the entire point."
The family loved doing, starting in 1991 and the Cupertino, California, to explore reefs and other nearby life. They encouraged their daughter's love of the ocean from early age, taking her to numerous occasions to learn how to snorkel and dive.
Adamick, 46, volunteered at the Santa Cruz County Animal Shelter, where she was remembered as compassionate, honest and motherly. She worked for the organization since the most difficult of conditions, and she worked at Santa Cruz County's Department of Health Services in a laboratory.
"She was an ally to all living things — reptiles, lizards, wild birds, pond waterbugs — and a champion for the natural world around us," Walker said.
The two girls attended Pacific Collegiate, a Santa Cruz charter school, for students in seventh through 12th grade, according to the school's website. Berenice had previously been absent for school for her work in plant science, according to the school's Facebook page.
"The two Berenice girls volunteered at the animal shelter, too, helped to care for foster kittens and keeping beaches safe and clean," Walker said. She said that Berenice's "talent and emerging career was a true gift that she brought with her."

Regarding Apple equipment owned or being test-driven by Salika. My post in Zoom follow-up March 9, 2021

On Adamic-Salika.... they were on the opposite side on the diagonal from the fire ignition point. IIRC one of them was holding their iphone.

If there were any Apple equipment models secret before it's announced publicly. Some people know about it, some people try out the betas. But everyone is sworn to silence IME. But any betas would not have left the bunk areas of that couple.

IMO the betas would be irrelevant unless Guiney had one. I don't think she worked for Apple, so IMO not to be concerned with the whole Apple beta topic.

The only extreme possibility would be if another of the tech folks on the boat was subcontracting for Apple, even as a pocket-writer. We might be able to find that out. And even then, unless they're located right at the ignition source, that person is sleeping with the device in their pocket, and it wouldn't be a factor.

The Adamics wouldn't have been letting go of their phones, either.

The only other possibility is that they were recharging a recharging battery used to recharge their other devices. But that wouldn't be an Apple product.

Now, if there were Samsung betas..... or any other equipment being beta-ed.....
