Yuko was a graduate of the University of Washington and worked as an engineer for Western Digital for nearly 10 years.

She posted many photos on Facebook of scuba diving including a trip she took to the Galapagos Islands where she photographed stingrays and sharks underwater.

She was 39 from San Jose.

Her Facebook page is empty.

Yuko had been with Reef Check since 2010, mostly diving in the central coast but went on many trips to the Channel Islands. She lived in San Jose and loved diving and the ocean. A lovely tribute to Yuko can be found below.
